Jubilee at Manzanita Club Starts Holidays

The Manzanita Club's twenty-seventh annual Jubilee last Saturday evening was a going concern from the moment the front door swung open until the last guest left for home with the fond hope that holiday forgiveness awaited him, and the history of this oldest club of town does not record a more successful affair.

Under pilotage of President Ben Wetzel, Vice-President William McPhillips, Secretary Robert G. Leidig and Treasurer Byron G. Newell, assisted by Dr. John Gray, Bernard Rowntree and many other willing workers, this strictly-for-men event drew guests from many miles around and signalized the beginning of the local Christmas Season. An added impetus was the use of Carmel Dollars at many of the table games, and it is reported that retirement of a large number of them was accomplished. Turkey raffles added a spice of chance to the evening, with George Moriarty and Don Staniford among the winners, and these drawings were followed by Tito Venza, of the New Monterey musical society, in several Neapolitan vocal selections, accompanied by F. D. Murphy at the piano.

Christmas Services at Carmel's Churches

REV. O'CONNELL TELLS OF CHRISTMAS AT MISSION

Rev. Michael O'Connell, pastor of the Old Carmel Mission, announces that Christmas service plans have been prepared for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and that a cordial invitation is especially extended to the Catholic and non-Catholic residents to attend the solemn high mass at midnight on Christmas Eve, an event that has always been looked forward to eagerly in this region.

Confessions will be heard Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and on Monday the masses will be at six, eight and ten o'clock.

In the night mass ushering in Christmas Day the sermon will be by a Jesuit Father and beginning fifteen minutes before midnight will be the carols by Mrs. Roberts and the Girl's Choir of Palo Alto. In the ensuing services the choir will be directed by Mrs. Nell Watson, who will also sing mass in G by Guglielmo Lorelli, and with her in the group work will be Mrs. Ruth Coot alto, Andrew Seseunt, tenor, and Sam Millar, bass.

VAN AUCKEN SUCCUMBS AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Death came to Everett Van Aucken, 67, for many years the town night patrolman, in a local hospital last week following an illness that climaxed in a stroke.

He was a native of the middle west, but had been in California the major part of his life engaging in mining, ranching and police work. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Lucina Van Aucken of San Luis Obispo, as his wife passed a way some time ago. Given a leave of absence from the Carmel force so that he might go to Paso Robles in search of health, his condition rapidly became so serious that he was shortly taken to the hospital for treatment.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by the Knights of Pythias at the Freeman Undertaking Parlor, and burial was in the Monterey cemetery.

JEFFRIES TO REFEREE DALTON BOUT TONIGHT

Billed on a card that will be refereed by none other than James J. Jeffries, himself, Bob Dalton, youngest of the fighting Daltons of Carmel will meet tough little Frankie Morales, of Salinas, tonight at the Salinas Athletic Club. Both boys will weigh 120 pounds, and Bob will have four rounds of hustling to stop his more experienced opponent.

Frank Dalton, the 145 pound member of the family, was to mix on the same bill, but a knee injury in training has caused his withdrawal. Carmelites have seen both the boys in action and are following their careers with an interest that pulls them to the arena night after night and a good crowd will undoubtedly show up in Salinas this evening.

Mrs. Mabel Sampson and her daughter Miss Elizabeth Sampson spent a few days this week at Yosemite.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Kern and Mrs. J. Kern, will spend a short time in Los Angeles visiting friends.

Major and Mrs. W. E. Kneass of Carmel spent a few days in San Francisco this week.

Forest Theater Project Withdrawn by Owners

Bringing to an end the strife that has centered on the Forest Theater as a CWA public park and playground project, Perry Newberry read in council meeting Wednesday morning a letter from the Arts and Crafts, Inc., withdrawing the Forest Theater offer because of the dissension it was creating.

"While we regret that the theatre could not have been accepted in the spirit it was offered and used to employ many men for a purpose close to the heart of Carmel," the letter read, "we feel that further bitterness and discord and threat of legal blockade is of harm to the town and herewith we withdraw our offer of it to Carmel."

The action was wholly unexpected, but tended to clear the air so that other projects might be considered even though it is almost hopelessly late to get CWA sanction on them. The council accepted the letter of withdrawal and voted to rescind the resolution of December 9th regarding theatre acceptance, thus writing finis on the whole matter and bringing directly to the front the problem of caring for unemployed during the next several weeks.

Ernest Bixler reminded the council that men could not be let starve in Carmel, and asked that the council seriously consider what steps it would take to provide food for both skilled and unskilled workers, adding that this was not in the nature of a threat but merely an open statement of fact as he has encountered it. This brought up the question of whether Carmel men would be accepted on jobs outside town, and it was learned that some might be but that transportation would be a problem as well as disposition of the skilled men when a plentitude already existed elsewhere. Such local projects as the City Hall and the Post Office, both strongly advocated under their separate federal fund appropriations, came up for examination as to whether they would use local men, and City Attorney Argyll Campbell said it could be arranged so that a majority of workers would be Carmelites. Delay in getting these started was the main trouble from the working man's angle, insisted Bixler.

Mayor Catlin stated that he had sent many letters regarding the Post Office delay, but that so far he had received no reply from Senator Johnson, Senator McAdoo, postal authorities and others high in authority while Attorney Campbell said that the $50,000 City Hall project was to be in Washington before the deadline of January 1st for consideration.

A major drainage system for the town, comfort stations in the park on Ocean Avenue, fixing of streets and many more alternate ideas were put forward, but it was not until Councilman John Jordan suggested the improvement of the foot of Ocean Avenue for parking purposes a project long urged by City Clerk Saidee Van Brower, Mrs. A. L. Sheets and Frederick Burt, that interest was aroused among the council members and spectators alike, and Mayor Catlin was immediately empowered to name a committee of citizens to form a plan, this plan to be submitted to the CWA officials in Salinas.

It was a case of trying with all vigor to get some benefit for the unemployed with federal funds and not to rely on the suggestion that Carmel taxpayers would be glad to dig down for funds regardless of the governmental offers.

The committee of citizens named by the mayor consisted of Frederick Burt, Hallie Sampson, Kent Clark, J. A. Burge and Col. Clair Foster supervised by Councilman Robert Norton, and prompt action was asked. Before adjournment it was also suggested that this or some other committee look into the problem of putting comfort stations in the park, and it was the sentiment of all that immediate steps would be taken to assume Carmel's obligation in a straightforward manner instead of wasting energy in strife.

STORMY COUNCIL MEETING ENDANGERS THEATER-PARK

In one of the stormiest council meetings on record, the special session of last Monday afternoon found the matter of the Forest Theater purchase by the city for a public park and playground further entangled in technicalities and objections, with minority members Mayor Catlin and Councilman Robert Norton demanding further proofs that the Arts and Crafts, Inc., were legally qualified to sell the Forest Theater or that the city of Carmel were legally qualified to buy it.

"As finance officer of this city," said Mayor Catlin, "the proofs must be brought to me. I am the buyer. The seller must come to me, and if anybody thinks I'm going to him, he'll be an old man before I do. I want to see all the books and lists of creditors of both divisions of the Arts and Crafts."

Carmel Library
Drawer 1600
Carmel, Calif.

Perry Newberry, newly elected president of the incorporated Arts and Crafts, presented a number of documents, which in earlier meetings had been cited as stumbling blocks, when he handed over the deed, a preliminary to title insurance for $10,000 issued by the Salinas Title Guaranty Company, a resolution of the club's board of directors to sanction the transfer of property and a release from all creditors of the club freeing council members Clara Kellogg, John Jordan and Herbert Heron from any responsibility for the club's debts. City Attorney Argyll Campbell studied the papers and stated that he would have to see the books and creditor lists in question before he could give final word as to acceptability by the city.

"No formal request for the books has been made to us," said Eugene Watson, speaking for the club, "but we would be pleased to put them before the City Attorney and the Mayor." This brought from the blacksmith Mayor a remark that he wasn't breaking into other men's offices under any conditions and that if he were selling somebody a piece of iron he would show proof that he could do so, and he would deliver it in person if need be.

Questions of legality and ethics were raised and drew the capacity audience into conflict with the council and with itself, and finally people divided into those favoring the minority councilmen, including members of the Committee of Forty, and those who were for overriding the minor aspects of the case and getting unemployed men to work. Mrs. Howard Hatton, a member of the county Civil Works Administration committee, said that fourteen men were available at once for the Forest Theater project and gave a resume of why the government favored the Theater for its allotment of funds, adding that she hesitated to send in a report on our delay for fear the administration would withdraw support entirely. Other projects such as improving north Junipero Street and fixing highways and drainage systems in town were not allowed, and to date no alternate project had been successfully put up.

Prior to the theater proposition, the council had taken up the matter of oak trees dangerously projecting into the Monte Verde speedway at the gulch dip below 5th Street. The city will try everything before cutting them, even to bringing suggestion from Herbert Heron that death-dealing bumps be intalled to curb speeders, and no-parking signs were finally recommended to prevent undue choking of the street for traffic.

SUNSET SCHOOL NEWS by Lee Van Atta

Teachers of the school are preparing for vacations either at home or abroad. Mrs. Johnson will visit in San Jose, Mr. Gale in San Francisco, Miss Curry in San Rafael, Miss Baer in San Francisco, Mrs. Kohner in San Jose, Mrs. Montmorency in Sacramento, Miss Ninneman in San Francisco, Mr. Calley in Oakland and Miss Ohm in Oakland, Mrs. Farley in Berkeley and in San Jose and Miss Kendall will visit in Los Angeles.

The Red Cross of Sunset School met on Wednesday to discuss plans for the year 1934.

The traffic squad of Sunset has greatly improved. Each class is on duty for one week. There are now thirty-two members and there are two captains, Raymond Brown and Paul Nye. Each room has a commanding officer or lieutenant.

A delightful tea was held last Friday afternoon by Mrs. Vera Peck Millis for the parents of the Fifth grade pupils. The party began at 4 P. M. and ended at 6 P. M. Delicious tea was served.

Word was received in Carmel this week that Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Newell are expected in Carmel to spend the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jeffrey and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hathaway of San Francisco will spend the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Short

PROTEST BRINGS LICENSE QUESTION BEFORE COUNCIL

The knotty problem of enforcing Ordinance 77, relating to Carmel business license fees, pushed the question of the Forest Theatre purchase out of the special council meeting on December 16th and featured reading of a letter of protest against the ordinance by Mrs. L. A. Shipley, of the Moorish Rug Shop. Referring to a petition of May 4th, 1932, signed by a majority of business houses in town and presented to the council shortly afterwards asking a settlement of the business license muddle, she said that she had received notice lately to pay her annual tax of $20.00 or suffer consequences.

"I am glad to have this opportunity to get before the public the unfair enforcement methods in relation to this ordinance," she wrote. "Who's afraid of the big bad wolf?" She continued, "It seems that the reduction of license fees in some cases hinges on whether one carries jewelry in stock. I can qualify there for I have Moorish jewelry (and if I didn't have jewelry I would buy some) but I also feel I am no more deserving of the reduction on that score than the other shops which do not carry jewelry." She concluded with a remark on the fine Italian hand of several shops in getting the $8.00 instead of the $20 annual fee.

Councilman Robert Norton moved acceptance of the $8.00 check she enclosed for her 1933 fees, and this brought a question from Miss Hallie Sampson, of the Der Ling Shop. Miss Sampson had gone deeply into the subject and asked that some equitable basis be arrived at so that merchants handling jewelry in the main would not be classed with those having it as a sideline.

This opened the whole Ordinance to discussion, and while Norton admitted that it was wrong to show favoritism in rating shops, he reminded listeners that the precedent had been set in the case of Merle's Treasure chest and subsequent ones, and that until entire renovation might be had the council should continue granting individual requests such as Mrs. Shipley's.

SANITARY REPORT GIVES CARMEL A GOOD RECORD

The November report of County Sanitary Inspector W. Earle Duclous showed that conditions in Carmel are better than average and that co-operation from inhabitants is satisfactory. The report lists:

Foods inspected (all food establishments) 39
City water samples taken 5
Notices served 14
Pounds of food products condemned 22
Unsanitary plumbing abated 1

TAX RECEIPTS SHOW TOTAL OF $23,171 TO DECEMBER 16

City tax receipts up to the week ending December 16th totaled $23,171, according to Tax Collector Gus England, and is in excess of that on hand last year at this time. This will be considerably increased as final payment date of December 25th approaches, and it is believed that general improvement over 1932 will be found in the final analysis.

The Tax Collector wants to remind the public that as the final date falls on Christmas Day, the 26th will be the legal limit.

AUDIENCE THRILLED BY CHILDREN'S CONCERT

by Hal Garrett

The children's concert presented by the Carmel Music Society last Friday in Sunset Auditorium was a creditable affair. A sizeable audience of youngsters and grownups all but filled the main floor, and every number on the program pleased.

Of the six pieces played by the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, Michel Penha conducting, the Jewels of the Madonna (Wolf-Ferrari) selection, and the Gounod Dance from Philemon and Baucis were most skillfully performed. Henry Dickinson, flutist, distinguished himself by a brief but expertly played solo part beginning and ending the Wolf-Ferrari offering.

Eight-year-old Max Hagemeyer appeared as Carmel's first resident juvenile soloist with the orchestra. Max kept his head and played without missing a note the Cantabile for Cello and Orchestra by Goltermann. The demonstration of orchestral instruments by Michel Penha assisted by Madeline Curry (oboe), Mrs. F. O. O'Hanlon (trumpet) and Abraham Weiss (viola), was enlightening.

The feature of the program was a Christmas Ballet by the Ruth Austin Dancers to Hansel and Gretel music played off stage by the orchestra. The audience was amused to see a fireplace, a window and a bedstead walk upon the stage. These lively furnishings remained surprisingly quiet during the excitement caused by the artral instruments by Michel Penha rival of Santa Claus down the chimney.

The father and mother and all the children danced about in gleeful pantomime, first to hang up their stockings, and later, on Christmas morn, to enjoy the gifts Santa Claus had left. A clever show, calculated to quicken the heart beats of young and old.

FOSTER'S CHORUS SINGS ORATORIO "THE MESSIAH"

by Hal Garrett

Fenton Foster's chorus gave an excellent performance of "The Messiah" in the Pacific Grove Methodist Church Sunday evening. Every seat in the main auditorium was taken and a sizeable overflow crowded into the gallery.

An orchestra of twenty pieces and the organist, Carol Moore Turner, supplied the accompaniment. The assisting soloists were Elmarie H. Hyler, soprano, Bess E. Ward, contralto, Frank P. Binnie, tenor, and Ray Faulkner, baritone.

Fenton Foster excels in training the large chorus, and he has developed this group of singers to a point where any town would be proud to claim them. The ensemble is full voiced, the attack vigorous and precise. The choirs are balanced, the tenors making up in spirited effort what they lacked in number. The basses boomed out in firm foundation for the tonal structure. Sopranos and contraltos were both sonorous and alert for the beat. The chorus should prove successful in a capella singing.

The soloists were especially effective after the intermission, when they seemed to gain in warmth and expressiveness. The orchestra added volume without dominating, and the tympani gave accent to the climaxes.

VARIETY MARKS EVENING WITH THE PLAY READERS

The Play Reading Group varied its program of Monday night offerings by having three short plays of widely differing nature, and attracted a good attendance in the lobby of the Pine Inn, where meetings are held through the courtesy of John Jordan.

An Irish Miracle play started the evening, being "The Traveling Man," by Lady Gregory, and had in its cast Edna Sheridan, John Plank, Miss Eloise Carwyle and Herbert Heron.

Then a Russian comedy, "Boor," by Anton Chekov, with Mrs. Sidney Fish, Jack Gribner, John Sheridan and Eugene Watson. Followed by the good old standby American comedy by Susan Glaspell of the Provincetown Players, "Suppressed Desires," which included Miss Nan McCormack, Mrs. Ernest Bixler, Mrs. H. M. Gleason and Mr. Gale.

The Group will declare a vacation of two weeks, and early next year the new schedule will be announced by permanent chairman Millicent Sears, with the casting committee of Nan McCormack, Eloise Carwyle and Eugene Watson in active charge.

SECOND WEEK OF EXHIBIT AT ASSOCIATION GALLERY

The Carmel Art Association held its second reception last Sunday in the new gallery on north Dolores Street, and once more guests admired the eighty small paintings which are there for a month's exhibition ending January 10th. These works by representative Peninsula artists range from still life to the open sea, and despite the brief time that was at the disposal of the hanging committee it is an excellent assembly.

Mrs. C. Chapel Judson and Miss Josephine Culbertson received the guests during the afternoon, with Etta Maxwell Heath and Nora Grabill pouring tea and coffee assisted by Abbe Bosworth, Mary Wheldon, Mrs. Hugh Comstock, Helen Willard, Mrs. B. Franklin Sowell, Jr., and Sally Fry among others.

The gallery will be open daily from 10 until 12 and from 2 until 5, and will be in charge of Nellie Montague, the curator. Mrs. Montague, for the Society, wants visitors to feel none of the museum effect that is so common to art galleries, but rather to feel the cordial hospitality that has prompted the opening of the building as a center of Peninsula art. Interior furnishings are all gauged with this in mind, and recent acquirement of six upholstered benches has made possible a restful viewing of the pictures.

A recent meeting of the Board of Directors took up the matter of further improvements on the grounds, adding to the chalk rock steps and walks and the new fence, with winter planting of shrubs and conditioning of the trees already under way.

Persons wishing to join the Carmel Art Society are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Montague at the gallery and learn of the various nominal membership fees, and of the future plans for exhibitions and other important activities under consideration.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB NEW YEARS PARTY

Carrying out its pleasant custom of giving a reception to the whole town on New Years Day, the Woman's Club will be at Home from four to six on January first at the Girl Scout House. Men, women and children will be welcome. Refreshments will be served and a happy social time is expected. There will be no other general meeting of the Club in January.

Mr. Harold Gates and Mr. George Aucourt returned to Carmel Saturday morning from Buenos Aires, where they have been living for the past six months.

SANTA CLAUS GETS HERE A WEEK AHEAD OF TIME

Throwing the children of town into an uproar when they thought that Santa Claus was coming to town a week early, Peter Voiss, bearded and seventy, drove his twin burros Trixie and Jimmie down Ocean Avenue at one mile an hour and parked in front of the Bank of Carmel to receive stares and reporters.

A month ago he left Oroville in this covered gig of his, with its folding bed that he claims is Pullman style 1934, its two large and insecure wheels boasting between them one automobile brake, its arts-and-crafts two-by-four-plank framework and running gear holding the two-burro-power motor in place, its ingenious boxes and drawers and metal fittings that make it a mobile museum.

"I'm bound for Big Sur to pan gold, and until I run onto a ledge I'll work pot-holes in the creeks. No, I don't expect to use a rocker, not while I got another way. I'd have prospected up north but there's so little land that a feller can get onto that isn't all owned, and the owners want fifty-percent instead of the fifteen per cent that we usually give 'em." He turned to smooth down his beard for a woman taking a snapshot, and buttoned one more button on his board-like overcoat as he sat on the driver's seat with hat turned up to give sunlight full opportunity on a real prospector's face.

Whether or not President Roosevelt sent him personally to investigate the condition of new-mined gold in Monterey County, at least we know that Stanford and California have a hand in it because Trixie wears headstrap colors of the cardinal tint, while Jimmie is definitely decorated with the blue and gold.

He was in town long enough to do some banner advertising for a local firm, then headed south for the end of the rainbow convinced that one hundred and twenty thousand dollars—yes, in gold—is his as soon as he gets there.

"ROADSIDE" TO BE OFFERED AT THE COMMUNITY THEATRE

by Eugene Files

Real comedy, intense drama and perfect picturization of a class of people typical to the central southwest together with superb direction and an excellent cast make the Carmel Community Players' next production, "Roadside" by Lynn Riggs, opening on Thursday, December 28, and running for three evenings at the Community Playhouse, an event to be eagerly looked forward to.

Riggs will be remembered for his play "Green Grow the Lilacs" which was presented by the Community Players a year ago with such remarkable success.

The direction of "Roadside" is in the hands of Marcus Goodrich former dramatic critic on the New York Tribune and now a scenario writer. Goodrich has also had several years experience at professional directing and has been stage manager of Lionel, John and Ethel Barrymore, Ann Harding, Doris Keane Marjorie Rambeau and other important stage people.

In the cast of "Roadside" are such talented actors as Patricia Montague Everett Sholund, Millard Pierson, Phil Remer, James Thoburn, Milt Latham, Mary McBride, Lloyd Weer, William "Youngster" Stanford and Edward Files.

During the entr'acte there will be songs by a group of cowboys and cowgirls led by Nick Radcliff and Tex Raibon.

Miss Dorothy Harmon and Mrs. Grace Glenn are motoring to Bakersfield to-morrow to spend Christmas. They will return Tuesday.

Mrs. Addie E. Riegg, mother of Mrs. Markham Johnston is spending a couple of weeks at her cottage here.

ROLAND HAYES IS COMING will have in northern California, and already music lovers from San Francisco and Palo Alto are making plans to hear the great "velvet voice," with the "purity of a mountain stream" in the Carmel Auditorium on Saturday evening, January 6. This will be the only intimate appearance that Mr. Hayes of one of the spirituals which he beautifully sings—"Poor Pilgrim." From a Georgia shanty to a Tennessee iron foundry—from which he still carries the scars of burns from molten metal—by labor and striving and pain he persevered until he had educated himself in Fisk University. Then followed ten hard years of study and struggle in Boston. A royal command to sing at Buckingham Palace in London opened the doors of success to him, and ten tours of Europe and America singing before packed houses at the highest of prices followed. Tickets are selling rapidly at the Denny-Watrous Gallery. Mail orders are given immediate attention.

CARMEL PLAYERS SEEN IN S. F. BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

Many noted Carmelites were on the badminton team of the Old Monterey Polo Club that went to San Francisco for a challenge game at Burke's Gymnasium with the St. Francis Badminton Club, and we are happy to report that sufficient Abalone League blood still flowed to make winners of our Peninsula players.

Among the members to take the trip were Mildred Hanke, Margaret Moll, Virginia Stanton, Helen Fuller, Dorothy Frost, Mary Trevett, Betty Work, Mary Callender, Anita Whitman, Mary Henderson, Lee Tevis and Doris Crossman, together with Charles Frost, Pete Conlon, Mortimer Henderson, Walter Snook, Charles Fuller, Charles Van Riper, Major H. Morgan, Lloyd Tevis Lieutenant H. Darling, Robert Stanton and Bud Crossman.

Monterey won 16 and lost 10 matches, meaning championship in the singles and men's doubles, but defeat in mixed doubles.

Arrangements for the matches were made by Paul Whitman, the noted artist whose recreation is duck hunting, and before the play an entertainment and dinner was tendered by Mrs. Lorin Tryon, a sister of Mrs. Harrison Godwin, of Carmel.

XMAS SALE OF WESTON PRINTS

Best and most beautiful of Christmas presents—a Weston print, regularly fifteen and twenty dollars, only two dollars each until sold out. One hundred prints, some slightly soiled or damaged because of traveling in exhibits, reduced to this sensational price on sale in Denny-Watrous Gallery until sold out.

Miss Eva Mae Adcock will leave tomorrow for Oakland where she will spend Christmas.

RAINY DAY CUPBOARD GIVES WIDE SERVICE

The Rainy Day Cupboard, maintained at 8th and Monte Verde by a committee of Carmel women, is probably unique in that no books, no investigations and no cash donations are involved in the distribution of its foodstuffs and other necessities.

Confidence is strictly kept as to where supplies go, and the method of distribution is carefully suited to each case without interfering with other service groups in the region. In many instances the supplies accepted by people are merely a loan that is repaid at an indefinite date, and the same friendly spirit of the people in giving to the Cupboard is had by those receiving from it. Neighborliness is perhaps the one word that summarizes the whole plan.

Among the women of the committee are Mrs. Karl Rendtorff, of North Camino Real, phone 846-W; Mrs. Everett Smith, of 7th and Carpenter, phone 430; Mrs. Nellie Taylor; Mrs. Anna Hayford, of the Carmel Employment Service Bureau, on Dolores near the Post-office, phone 753; Mrs. Margaret Grant, 5th and Junipero, phone 518-W; and Mrs. A. T. Hyde, on whose premises at 8th and Monte Verde the Cupboard is located, reached by phoning 130. Any of these members urge that people who are able to use any of the things in the Cupboard get in touch with them early or late and feel perfectly free in accepting supplies under any conditions they wish to set.

To the neighbors who help maintain the stocked shelves and the garment closets, credit is due for the manner they can buy well for their own homes and bring down a surplus tin of something, or a loaf of bread, or vegetables or any other extras which sometimes averages a box a week. There is always someone at or near the Cupboard to receive these things and to give them out.

Let no one hesitate to take advantage of this neighborly service, but come for it in the frank spirit of helpfulness that makes it possible and pass on the word of its work so that others may share in it.

Benjamin Franklin of Philadelphia wrote: "Never leave till tomorrow that which you can do today."

Ben Franklin of Carmel-by-the-Sea says: "I wouldn't put off that hair-cut until tomorrow if I were you. All the world knows the value of what some people call a 'front.' WINIFRED CHRISTIE COMING

by Hal Garrott

A musical treat will be offered to the Peninsula in January when Winifred Christie plays in the Denny-Watrous Gallery. Ernest Newman refers to Miss Christie's piano recital in Carnegie Hall as "one of the most astounding experiences of my musical life." The New York Times is hardly less enthusiastic when it refers to Miss Christie's "filmy, iridescent web of tonal coloring," and adds "such playing is rarely to be heard."

Fortunately for us Winifred Christie is financially independent and has expressed a desire to see Carmel. This little village could not afford the hundreds that go to make up her fee. Miss Christie plays a piano with two keyboards, offering technical and tonal advantages over the ordinary instrument.

Natural Gas Naturally THE BETTER FUEL

WHAT a problem weather changes make for the home with an old-fashioned heating system! In the morning the question as to whether the furnace or the fire should be started or not. Or just how big a fire should one make? Then, perhaps a good fire is started and the sun comes out and the house becomes unbearably warm. These things mean discomfort. They may cause winter colds in the head. They mean added work and fuel waste.

Indeed, in every way Natural Gas Heating is the most carefree method of heating the home. Fuel is delivered automatically, and is always on hand. Uniform temperature is maintained within the home at all times regardless of outside weather.

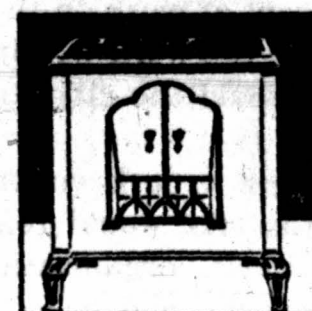

Now about your home. Is it ready for changeable weather? Investigate Natural Gas Heating. It is reliable, it is healthful, it is inexpensive. Be comfortable this winter. Install Natural Gas Heating equipment now.

Floor Furnace

Solves the heating problem for homes without a basement. Highly praised by thousands. Saves floor space and is easy and most economical to install and operate.

Circulating Heater

Attractive, low in first cost and highly efficient. It heats two to four rooms. Made in many sizes and styles. Extremely economical to operate.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The offer made the city of the Forest Theater properties for a park and playgrounds has been withdrawn by its owners, the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts. There was too much bitterness being engendered over an old and well beloved Carmel institution. But because the offer was misunderstood by many, the following questions and answers—prepared before the withdrawal—are printed here.

What will be the cost to the city of the Forest Theater properties?

For fifteen lots in block 85—the entire block—and one lot in block 81, about an acre and a half, including stage and auditorium, lighting outfit, scenery and props, the city agrees to pay not to exceed $2200, of which sum $580 goes to satisfy the principal and interest of a mortgage upon the lot in block 81; $750 goes to the city to pay delinquent and current taxes; $150 to the county for taxes; the balance will pay off debts owing by the Forest Theater.

What is today's value of the property taken over by the city?

Based at the very low figure of $500 a lot, the property clear would be worth $8000. The stage and auditorium are worth $1500. The lighting plant, sets and props are worth $500. At the lowest reasonable valuation the Forest Theater is worth $10,000.

What additional money would the city have to pay to construct tennis courts and improve the theater?

In order to get a C.W.A. grant of something over $8,000 from the Federal government, the city would have to pay out an extra $700 for cement and materials, so that the Federal money could go principally for wages.

What would be done with this city money and C.W.A. allotment of approximately $11,000?

It would build two tennis courts below the stage; a wall or slab fence around the grounds; and improve the auditorium and stage.

What wages would men at work on this project receive?

Unskilled labor would get 45 cents an hour, and skilled labor $1.10 an hour, with a 30 hour week. Two or more shifts of men could be kept at work on the job if necessary to complete the work within a time limit.

How would the city conduct the Forest Theater?

Through a park commission, duly appointed, the city would rent the theater to local dramatic organizations during the summer season, and collect its rent in advance; or operate on a division basis of the gross receipts, getting its share from the box office in advance. The city would not itself produce plays, or take any chance in the hazard of play production.

Would the revenue from these summer plays pay the cost of upkeep of the Forest Theater?

THE SEED OF THE CHRISTMAS TREE

In a pasteboard box of Christmas things,
 Gold ropes and stars and colored strings,
 I found this ball all silver and blue,
 With a sparkly look when the light shines through.

I'm just as excited as I can be
 For I know it's the seed of a Christmas tree,
 And I'm going to plant it there by the shed,
 In the spaded place by the aster bed.

I'll watch the place where the seed went in,
 Till a little tree shoots up, green and thin.
 And I'll say to the folks "You let that be,
 It's the sprout from the seed of a Christmas tree."

And when it gets up to considerable size
 I know my parents will be surprised,
 For along in December, such fruit they'll see
 All blossoming out on my Christmas tree!

—Marian Gregg
 In "Singing Years"

PRAYER

Life be thou crisp
 And merry as December!
 Only the joy
 Will cleave the world's despair.
 Out of the night
 Revealed by a cloud's passing
 Blaze forth thy stars!
 Scatter the dark
 With spears of splintered light.
 Let there be laughter!

—D. H.

AGAINST THE WINTER

Now is the heart's preserving time,
 When sight and sound would merge in rhyme,
 When aromatic nights and days
 Would crystallize in autumn haze.

Glean swiftly beauty's ample field,
 Heart, treasure well the goodly yield,
 For you shall feast, before the spring,
 On every spicy, nectared thing.

—Elinor Lennen.

SHADOW PICTURE

Doorway shadows are shrouded by the darkness;
 The surf rolls softly; grasses bend in the breeze;
 The moon moves shimmering in a luminous cloud.
 Dim figures slip away beyond the creaking door,
 And phantom voices merge with moving shadows
 Where un bodied footsteps crunch the sandy walk.

—Ted Finn.

WORDS

Words are lovely vibrant things
 Where tone and color interweave,
 When handled by a master mind
 They live and move and breathe.

—Myrtle Alice McCarcy.

In the past twenty-four years the Forest Theater has been maintained, improved, lighting equipment installed, and the property has been purchased out of its productions. If the hazard is taken by the dramatic organizations, and the city has only to look to the collection of its rents, there should be absolute safety of sufficient funds to take care of upkeep.

Are public parks or playgrounds usually self supporting?

They are not. This proposal is one of the few municipal projects in the country that promises to be self supporting. Were we buying the land at a fair valuation instead of having it practically given us; were we building a playground with city money, instead of from a Federal gift; were we paying out annually for upkeep in a generous amount, instead of having returns to meet the cost, we would be like hundreds of other towns that give thought and care to the welfare and happiness of their young people. Carmel's opportunity, both for today with work for its unemployed, and for the future in better hopes for its young people, is exceptional.

What are the benefits to the city of a municipally owned Forest Theater?

The advertising that has been given Carmel in the past because of the Forest Theater has been of inestimable value. The fact that the city owns the theater now will be news of advertising importance throughout the country. It will bring people to Carmel, not only as visitors in the summers, but as residents. It will help the business of every merchant in Carmel.

What will be the benefits of public tennis courts?

Some place where adults and children can have the stimulus of play in perfect surroundings has been a need of Carmel for years. A small charge made adults for the courts, with children playing free, might be found desirable, and would help with the upkeep. There is no doubt that tennis courts would be an inducement for summer visitors to remain longer in Carmel, and would add desirability to the village as a place of residence.

What are the arguments against the project?

Mainly technical ones of legality and of title. These can all be cleared away in short order. The Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts, a corporation, has clear title to the property of the forest Theater, and can pass that title to the city after certain formalities are done according to law. Nobody in their sane senses believes that Councilmen Herbert Heron, Clara Kellogg and John B. Jordan are making anything directly or indirectly through the transfer. That they belonged to the Arts and Crafts when the matter came up before the council is a fact, but that membership in that organization could influence their vote is not a fact. To clear up the technicality, they resigned from the Arts and Crafts, and passed the resolution in the council again. To argue that their action has anything to do with the merits of the project is merely to quibble.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

William T. Kibbler, one of the very early Carmelites, now confined to his home on 8th and Lincoln by long-standing illness, came to Carmel so that his wife might have all the garden she wanted.

"I was afraid that her garden in San Francisco might kill some-body," explained Dr. Kibbler, long active in politics and one time our mayor, "by falling off the porch. You see, we had an apartment out toward the city hall and gradually my wife filled it to overflowing with potted plants. They even extended out into the hall and all over the porch and window sills. One day a pot fell off and nearly struck a passerby, and I figured something had to be done about it."

So the Kibblers came to this little real estate summer resort they had heard about and selected some lots "way out of town" on 8th and Lincoln. Much of the finishing work was done by a young carpenter named Mike Murphy, whose name is still remembered hereabouts, and when the place was finished the Kibblers decided to stay here the year round.

This turned Frank Devendorf's thoughts toward advertising the town as something more than just a vacation resort, and Carmel began to grow into the sturdy and beautiful village that was to be known the world around.

Chatting the other day on plays we used to have, he said, "Why, at the old Arts and Crafts Hall the people used to bring folding chairs so they could sit down in the aisles if all the other seats were sold, and many a time I've seen our volunteer firemen almost come to blows with customers when too many tried to crowd in. I guess they'd like that condition today."

One of the most successful outdoor plays on the Forest Theater stage was that pretty little comedy drama "Pomander Walk," with Dr. Kibbler playing the Rev. Sternroyd who tried to be dignified with a young couple surreptitiously in love, and the scene in the gazaboo (try and pronounce it) came to such a pass that he scrambled his lines and his dignity at the same time. And the audience thought it was all in the show and applauded his sterling work in a way to warm any good trouper's heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliot of Calimesa arrived in Carmel last night to spend Christmas with Mrs. Elliot's mother, Mrs. J. Rockwell.

Miss Betty Jean Downing was a visitor in San Francisco this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush Hughes of S. F. spent the last week-end in Carmel stopping at Hotel La Ribera. Mr. Hughes is connected with the National Broadcasting Co., conducting the Langendorf Pictorial Program over K G O.

Miss Betty Hyde returns home to-morrow to spend Christmas, after a two months absence spent in Wichita, Kansas visiting her uncle, Mr. Alex Hyde.

Miss Agnes Williston leaves to-morrow morning for Palo Alto to spend Christmas with Mrs. J. D. Burks.

Christmas Eve will be enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Reamer when about a hundred guests will gather and spend the first part of the evening singing Christmas Carols from door to door, later returning to the Reamer home for dancing and a lively time.

Our Science Section wishes to say that static-crackling in local radio receiving sets is caused by a weed. This rumor originates from the old yarn about the strange little plant found growing near a power house in the high Sierras, a plant normally tiny but which became so charged with electricity that it grew to one hundred times its original dimensions.

A storm during seed time blew the seeds of this plant all over California, and the new plants, as they grow, are said to give off electrical sputters which make reception miserable. No, gentle reader, there is no such thing as a Current Bush.

In these days of athletic girls, there is a crying need for skill in a new kind of make-up, and that is for the black eye. Barbers have for years been adept in covering with theatrical paint a customer's sooty lamp so that he may go down to the office and not be questioned, but what beauty shoppe can a girl go into and have temporary repairs made?

Perhaps the best qualified make-up artist would be the coach of the baseball team, for it is in basketball that the lassies get shiners most frequently. One young and pretty basketball player we knew got smacked on the bridge of the nose and boasted two complete black eyes at one time.

To all our Friends and Customers

With the year of 1933 drawing to a close we take inventory of the progress made during the past twelve months. Although business conditions are not yet normal, we find that there is a great general improvement. We more than satisfied.

We look to the coming year to bring an even greater general pick-up and it is with this firm belief that we wish all our friends a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year
